

TRAINER'S MATERIALS

MODULE: COMMUNICATION AND CONFLICT RESOLUTION

TOPIC 5: CONFLICT MANAGEMENT

THE SET OF EXERCISES FOR THE TRAINING SESSION

DURATION OF THE SESSION: 120 MINUTES

Time	Table of content	Exercises
5′	Introduction to the training	No exercises for this part Presentation of the professor and all the students.
	Goal: break the ice between students and the teacher and meet the classmates
30′	Topic presentation	Inflate like balloons :
	Conflict management	Students will be placed in a circle so that
	Index and objectives	everyone can see each other.
	Theoretical concept	The teacher will explain the importance of Resolve questions	staying calm in conflict situations, for which a relaxation exercise will be carried out, which can be done at any time and when our emotions overwhelm you.
		First, deep breaths will be taken, standing with your eyes closed. As the lungs fill with air, they will raise their arms. This step is repeated several times, enough so that everyone has learned to do the exercise correctly.
		Afterwards, they release the air and begin to pretend to wrinkle like balloons, deflating

Project Management Training Course for Small Non-profit Organisations in Europe Erasmus+2019-1-PL01-KA204-065494

until they fall to the ground. This exercise is repeated several times.

After a few minutes have passed and they have relaxed, they are asked if they think they can do these exercises when they are angry.

My point of view

Description: Each participant is given an identical sheet of a photograph, newspaper clipping, or any image. They are then asked to observe it and draw what that image suggests to them.

Once everyone has done it on a separate sheet, each one will show her drawing, explaining that she has led them to draw it that way. Meanwhile, the facilitator points out the different ways of seeing that photograph that the participants have had.

After everyone has explained their interpretations, it is time to debate and reflect on the results, making them understand that each one has their own way of seeing things.

40' Types of conflicts

Depending on its veracity.

Depending on the number of participants.

Depending on the theme.

Resolve questions

Yes or Not:

The "YES" and "NO" cards are placed in the classroom, facing each other.

All the participants stand in the center of the space. The facilitator will say a statement and each person should go to a point in the classroom, depending on whether or not they agree with the phrase that has been said. When people are already situated, they must say, one by one, the reasons why they have gone to "YES" or "NO", arguing them. The facilitator says another phrase again and the participants return to where the cards are according to their point of view. Roleplay: People will have to play a role, for which they will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts Signs of a conflict CCST model Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to those points later.

Project Management Training Course for Small Non-profit Organisations in Europe Erasmus+2019-1-PL01-KA204-065494

When people are already situated, they must say, one by one, the reasons why they have gone to "YES" or "NO", arguing them. The facilitator says another phrase again and the participants return to where the cards are according to their point of view. Roleplay: People will have to play a role, for which they will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. The facilitator: This activity is ideal to do when there has Signs of a conflict been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in class, Mediator Which is going to try to solve jointly. Resolve questions One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			classroom, depending on whether or not they say, one by one, the reasons why they have gone to "YES" or "NO", arguing them. The facilitator says another phrase again and the participants return to where the cards are according to their point of view. Roleplay: People will have to play a role, for which they will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts Signs of a conflict CCST model Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. Resolve questions One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			agree with the phrase that has been said.
gone to "YES" or "NO", arguing them. The facilitator says another phrase again and the participants return to where the cards are according to their point of view. Roleplay: People will have to play a role, for which they will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts Signs of a conflict CCST model Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			When people are already situated, they must
The facilitator says another phrase again and the participants return to where the cards are according to their point of view. Roleplay: People will have to play a role, for which they will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts			say, one by one, the reasons why they have the participants return to where the cards are according to their point of view. Roleplay: People will have to play a role, for which they will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts			gone to "YES" or "NO", arguing them.
according to their point of view. Roleplay: People will have to play a role, for which they will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts This activity is ideal to do when there has signs of a conflict been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			The facilitator says another phrase again and Roleplay: People will have to play a role, for which they will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. Harvard method Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			the participants return to where the cards are
People will have to play a role, for which they will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts The facilitator: This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			according to their point of view.
People will have to play a role, for which they will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to
will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts Signs of a conflict CCST model Harvard method Harvard method Mediator Resolve questions Will be given a character that they will have to represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they me minutes to get to know the character they me minutes to get to know the character they me minutes to get to know the character they minutes to get to know the first order. The facilitator: This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			Roleplay:
represent, so they will be given a few minutes to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, CCST model Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			People will have to play a role, for which they
to get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts Signs of a conflict CCST model Harvard method Harvard method Mediator Resolve questions To get to know the character they are going to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			will be given a character that they will have to
to play and put themselves in their role. They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts Signs of a conflict CCST model Harvard method The facilitator: This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			represent, so they will be given a few minutes
They play their role in a conflict, real or fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. Harvard method Harvard method Mediator Resolve questions The facilitator: This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			to get to know the character they are going fictional. When it has finished, they proceed to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts This activity is ideal to do when there has Signs of a conflict been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. Resolve questions One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			to play and put themselves in their role.
to debate to reach a common agreement. 40' Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts Signs of a conflict CCST model Harvard method Mediator Resolve questions The facilitator: This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			They play their role in a conflict, real or
Techniques and strategies for managing conflicts This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. Harvard method Harvard method Mediator Resolve questions The facilitator: This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			fictional. When it has finished, they proceed conflicts Signs of a conflict CCST model Harvard method Mediator Resolve questions This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to			to debate to reach a common agreement.
conflicts Signs of a conflict CCST model Harvard method Mediator Resolve questions This activity is ideal to do when there has been a problem situation in the classroom, which affects the development of the group. The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to
Signs of a conflict CCST model Harvard method Mediator Resolve questions Mediator The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to	40′	Techniques and strategies for managing	The facilitator:
CCST model Harvard method Mediator Resolve questions One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to		conflicts	This activity is ideal to do when there has
Harvard method The teacher raises the situation in class, which is going to try to solve jointly. Resolve questions One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to		Signs of a conflict	been a problem situation in the classroom,
Mediator Resolve questions One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to		CCST model	which affects the development of the group.
Resolve questions One of the people involved explains the situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to		Harvard method	The teacher raises the situation in class, situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to		Mediator	which is going to try to solve jointly.
events and the people who have been involved on the board to be able to return to		Resolve questions	One of the people involved explains the involved on the board to be able to return to			situation. If necessary, she takes note of the events and the people who have been those points later.			involved on the board to be able to return to those points later.

Project Management Training Course for Small Non-profit Organisations in Europe Erasmus+2019-1-PL01-KA204-065494

As names come up, the teacher will have to encourage the people involved to intervene and explain his point of view. The idea is that together and from the different opinions and testimonies a solution is reached.

It should be noted that here the teacher, or the facilitator, plays an important role, since he has to lead the debate and encourage the participation of the whole group, or at least of those who have been involved in the incident.

Barriers to solution:

Each member of the group is given a sheet of paper to write down the problem they recently encountered. The leaves are folded and stored in a bag.

In order, each participant will take a page out of the bag and read it aloud, while another member of the group will write down what has been said on the board. Once all the problems have been noted, one is chosen to solve by vote.

Once the topic has been chosen, what happened is discussed and, under the chosen topic, on the blackboard, two columns are drawn. In one, functional forces are pointed out, that is, advantages or positive aspects of the debated issue, while in the other

Project Management Training Course for Small Non-profit Organisations in Europe Erasmus+2019-1-PL01-KA204-065494

		dysfunctional forces are pointed out, that is, disadvantages or negative aspects.
		Once all this has been observed, the plausibility of the problem itself will be discussed, whether it can be reformulated into something productive for the group or if it is an issue that must be solved peacefully
		through other activities.
5′	Summary of the session	No exercises for this part

